Why participate in 'Sconfinati'?

I chose to participate to share the stories of these people who we are used, in the best of cases, to look with superiority or as if they don't even deserve a glance. Because above all, this is 'Sconfinati': a union of stories and people.

Thanks to this representation we are able to shorten the distance that separate us from these people, that finally offer us a glimmer of truth about what forced them to leave their home and face the awful journey between war, desert and sea, until Italy.

I chose to participate to try to make know what the media often do not tell us.

I chose to participate because the theme of immigration is not only about who made this journey, but all of us.
